

In conversation with...

Gunnar Klein and Nathan Lea
C3 Cloud Ethics and Data Protection

Introductions

- Gunnar Klein, Prof. of Health Informatics, Örebro University and chairperson of the C3-Cloud Ethics Committee
- Nathan Lea, Senior Research Fellow, UCL; Information Governance Lead UCLH NHS Foundation Trust Biomedical Research Centre Clinical and Research Informatics Unit, and i~HD

This afternoon's session

- ▶ Reflection on Ethics and Data Protection
 - ▶ “The New Normal”
 - ▶ A new mandate for ICT driven health...?
 - ▶ Reflecting on C3 Cloud - conversation
-

GDPR...

Lawful purposes
(i.e. ethical and safe)

Secure

Use data that's adequate

Only data that you need

Be open, clear and honest about what you are doing

Be accountable

COVID-19

England case in point – Control of Patient Information Regulations Notice...

Pandemic response – specific purposes including research

Duty of confidence set aside

Data Protection and research governance, including ethics, are not

Privacy Shield – RIP

Brexit

“The new normal...”

Ethics and Data Protection – new mandate

No
prevarication

No disruption

Clear
answers

No is not an answer

Reflecting on C3 Cloud – Ethics and Data Protection

- ▶ How do you think you have done?
- ▶ Where have ethics and data protection helped?
- ▶ Where have they hindered?
- ▶ Have they helped make ICT more sustainable for delivering and improving care?
- ▶ What could C3 Cloud have done better?
- ▶ What are you most proud of?
- ▶ How can we all do better?